

An Emory professor discovered that animals resolve conflicts and repair relationships.
As it turns out, it's "Survival of the Nicest."

Emory University in Atlanta attracts people who transform the world. Professor Frans de Waal, for example, was the first to discover that animals resolve conflicts and make up after fights. His findings at Emory's Yerkes National Primate Research Center changed how behaviorists view animals and sparked new research on how humans resolve conflicts. At Emory you'll find the world's leading researchers, professors and students. That's why Emory is ranked as one of the nation's top 20 universities by U.S. News & World Report. Find out how your world is influenced by what's happening at Emory right now.

Find out more at www.emory.edu/greatscholars

EMORY UNIVERSITY