

Call for IPE-ACTS Team Advisors!

IPE-ACTS Overview

IPE-ACTS is the new interprofessional (IPE) training program for first-year Emory University students enrolled in the schools of medicine, nursing, and public health. This program will challenge students to address critical health issues impacting Atlanta communities and the Emory Healthcare system while using Interprofessional Education Collaborative (IPEC) competencies.

IPE-ACTS Team Advisors

The Team Advisors will support and provide guidance to two-three teams working on the same Health Challenge.

Who is Eligible?

Any second-year or above master's student, doctoral student, resident, or post-doc in the schools of medicine, nursing, or public health.

Why Participate?

- Impressive service activity
- Opportunity to hone interprofessional leadership skills
- Experience counts toward an Office of IPEC IPE Certificate of Distinction
- Recognition in IPE-ACTS communications across Emory during 2023-2024 academic year
- Recognized as a LEAD point activity for Rollins School of Public Health students
- Receive a gift card

Team Advisor Roles and Responsibilities

- Attend a virtual training session
- Attend in-person IPE-ACTS Kick-Off event on Friday, January 26, 2024, and meet with assigned teams
- Host three virtual office hours from 1/29/24 – 3/15/24 to provide team guidance
- Field questions from assigned teams as needed
- Alert IPE-ACTS staff of problems with assigned teams
- Participate in program evaluation process for Team Advisors
- Time commitment - approximately 8-9 hours in the Spring 2024 semester

Application Process

Click here to apply! You need your Emory NetID and password to login for this fast and easy application!

---

Team Advisor Activities	Timeframe
Application Period	September – November 2023
Attend a virtual Team Advisor training session	November 2023 – January 2024
Attend in-person IPE-ACTS Kick-Off Event	January 26, 2024
Support assigned teams with 3 virtual 1-hour office hours and field team questions via email	January – March 2024
Participate in program evaluation	March – April 2024