Planning for an Interdisciplinary Response to Terrorist Use of Explosives

Wednesday November 9, 2011

7:30 am – 4:45 pm

Twelve Atlantic Station

Terrorists' use of explosives present unique medical and emergency management challenges.

Current trends in global terrorism require that public health, public safety, and health care systems be prepared to cope with such challenges.

During this extraordinary meeting, international and national experts with first hand experience of the impact of terrorists' events will share how the lessons they learned can benefit local planning in Atlanta.
